Yellow warning
Thunderstorm

Between 12:00 Tue 13 Jun 2023 and
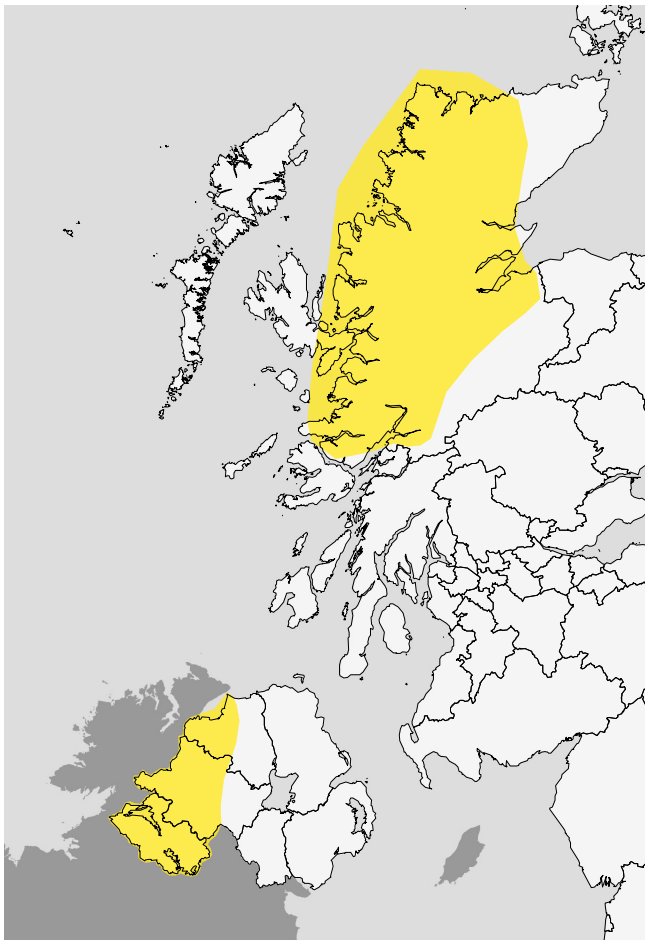
21:00 Tue 13 Jun 2023



Thunderstorms developing Tuesday afternoon may bring some disruption.

What to expect

- There is a small chance that homes and businesses could be flooded quickly, with damage to some buildings from floodwater, lightning strikes, hail or strong winds, especially across Northern Ireland
- Spray and sudden flooding could lead to difficult driving conditions and some road closures
- There is a slight chance that power cuts could occur and other services to some homes and businesses could be lost
- Where flooding or lightning strikes occur, there is a chance of delays and some cancellations to train and bus services

Further details

Although some places will miss them, thunderstorms are likely to develop over western parts of Northern Ireland and northwestern Scotland from early Tuesday afternoon. These will be fairly slow-moving with the potential for large rainfall amounts in a short period of time. 20-30 mm of rain may fall in an hour or less in a few spots with perhaps 40-50 mm possible if successive thunderstorms affect the same location. Frequent lightning and hail of 2-3 cm in diameter are additional hazards which will accompany stronger storms.

Very low likelihood of medium impacts
